Surprise in Financial Circles.

LONDON, July 22—Announcement this afternoon of the resignation of John O Tappan Governor of the Boston Belting Co., a position he has held since the organization of the Company, 30 years ago, and the statement that he had used the credit of the company in the interest of private speculation was a surprise in financial circles. The corporation was paid up capital of $500 000, and its reputation, under Tappan's management had been such that its paper was readily discounted at the banks, ranking as among the safest securities. The capital stock was 5,000 shares at $100 each, early in the year it sold for $150 per share, while the last auction sale was at $100 per share. Upon the resignation of Tappan, G. S. Converse, treasurer of the Cornish Shoe Co., was chosen successor to the presidency and the affairs of the company in future will be called a meeting to be held at Boston, at which creditors and stockholders will be represented. It is expected that Tappan had issued a large amount of $600 000 and is also on the $2,000 on outside endorsement as the proceeds of which have not come into the company. The total liabilities of the company are $830 000 nominally $800,000; notes payable as above $600,000. It also appeared that Mr Tappan had good the losses to the company, thereby relieving himself of responsibility for which rests with the directors over to the creditors by this transaction. The nominal value of the stock in consequence of the condition of the company has suspended. Jas Wm. P. Hunt president of the Second National Bank, and George A Alden have been appointed to make a thorough investigation of the affairs of the corporation since the decease of the late treasurer.

The latter was in the hands of the Boston firm is not known. Both keepers are endeavoring to get a statement of affairs ready for the creditors.

The amount of the Boston Belting Company's paper held by Boston banks is not known, but is considered satisfactory. Reliable parties and is good for the face of the paper. The amount of the Boston Belting Co's indebtedness to the banks mainly. The treasurer has turned over all of the property Tappan, in addition to his interest in the Belting Co, was pres dent of the Gillon & Sprague Commercial Company of New York, and is said to be large owner of the Marrero Packing Company. He is also a partner in the firm of Tappan & Co, successors to Kelvert & Co, which has met with heavy losses in Cincinnati. They are Boston agents for the Thomas Patent Lungs. Catarrh, Rupture, the Opium Habit, &c., price 50 cts. Any of the above books sent free of postage on receipt of price, or all three, containing 500 pages, beautifully illustrated for $2 00. BOSTON, July 23—The assignment of the Boston Belting Co. is announced. The liabilities are large, but the assets are considered sufficient to pay all the debts. The assignment was made to-day to Thomas Nickerson, of the firm of Nickerson, Sears & Co., bankers, and Edward Atkinson, of the firm of Lee, Higginson & Co., bankers, who are the largest creditors. The assignment was made at the request of the banks mainly interested. The liabilities are said to be about $1,000,000, of which $600,000 is due to the banks. The assets are estimated at $1,500,000, of which $1,000,000 is in real estate. The property is mortgaged for $600,000. The Boston Belting Company to secure the banks. The mortgage is composed in good part of the stock of the New York commercial agency of Gillon Sprague, Converse & Co. and is almost worthless. The other securities are also worthless.

The elections in Summerville county Ga. were carried by the Republican majority by a majority but are now becoming known in each cases their candidates were not allowed to take their seats. Mass Meetings among the Italians ROME, July 23—Telegrams from Genoa Palermo Brescia Pavia Reggio Demilia Turin Pestoja and Ferrara describe the meetings in these cities yesterday in favor of an Italian Irredenta as large and enthusiastic. Resolutions of the character passed at Naples Sunday, and at Palliteanna Theater yesterday were voted. Demonstrations were also made in Bologna, Florence, Milan, Venice, Brunetti Bologna and the streets of Naples where cries were raised of "Viva Trieste Viva Trento." Meetings will be held at Milan Como, San Remo and Venice Sunday next.

A band of music in Piazza was obliged to play Garibaldi's Hymn several times in answer to demands of the crowd. The demonstration was finally ended by a band of young men parading the streets singing patriotic sons and shouting "Abasso Crispi and Viva la Guerra. Moderate Liberals attribute the demonstration to ultramontanes.

Italian Journals on Italian Turmoils

LONDON, July 23—Referring to the requirements of international usage in relation to the proceedings of "Italia Irredenta party the Diretta says: The government is fully alive to its duties and obligations towards a friendly power and is determined to act up to them. A system of overt friendship and latent conspiracy may suit a weak government which has all to gain and nothing to lose by an adventurous policy, but when great states there can only exist rather open friendship or open hostility. It would be an act of perfidy to cast upon the government the responsibilities of agitation which is in great measure especially directed against itself. The article concludes by expressing deep regret at the present agitations.

The Liberata observes that the attempted demonstration did not have the results hoped for by its imprudent, fanatic promoters, in consequence of the calm and dignified attitude of the population. La Capitale regards the demonstration which yesterday was organized either by some thoughtless individuals or by agents of those desirous of stirring up agitation in Italy. The Diretto ministerial organ maintains the necessity of preserving intact the right of public meetings but states that the government is firmly resolved to prevent any demonstration that disturbs public order a fact proved yesterday evening by the stringent measures taken by the minister of the interior to stop attempted manifestations which was highly condemning both in form and substance. The Diretto adds: Neither Zanardelli, minister of the interior, nor Cairoli president of the council are disposed to yield to intimidation or threats.

The ministerial journal, the Diretto disavows any connection of government with present relations between Italy and Austria which are firmly established by treaties loyally signed and accepted.

POTTER SUB-COMMITTEE.

NEW ORLEANS, July 23—John Ray attorney here for Secretary Sherman has written to chairman Potter, saying that in consequence of the delay of the Washington committee in acting upon the secretary's request that subpœnas be issued for witnesses regarding intimidation, that Mr Sheldabarger had decided upon omitting that examination into intimidations and requests the Washington counsel should advise him to the contrary he should not avail himself of the notification that such witnesses at Secretary Sherman should name would be subpœnaed.

And Yet Perhaps Not

A Jewish contributor to the New York Sun suggests a long list of possible things from Beaconsfield's diplomatic efforts as follows:

Beaconsfield is a Jew, Benjamin has negotiated the new protectorate Syria in which Palestine and Jerusalem are located, is one of the Turkish provinces that are placed under the British protectorate according to the terms of the protectorate the governors of Turkish provinces are to be appointed with the approval of the British government which Beaconsfield is the prime minister the appointment of the governor of Syria in which Palestine and Jerusalem will be under the control of Beaconsfield's power at Jerusalem over an event Palestine he will place a Jew in the chief place the Jews will again rise to power at the seat of their ancient glory the laws of Moses and the old Jewish system will be restored and thus we may discover the key of Beaconsfield's eastern policy and behold the consummation of his Jewish ambition.

Gen James Watson Webb is gradually sinking and his death may be expected any moment. His physician says he has the most wonderful constitution of any patient he ever attended. Thirty or forty years ago Gen Webb's death would have created a sensation for he was then the foremost journalist in the country but now he is regarded as lagging superfluously on the stage, after playing his part in the drama of life.

PERSONAL AND GENERAL

When Senator Thurman had finished his speech at the Ohio Democratic convention the chairman had the leader of the band struck up "Listen to the mocking bird."

The New Haven Leader says: One of the most unpleasant truths that can befall Hayes is that he has made the Republican party ready to accept Grant again.

Secretary Evarts has had very neat monument made to be placed over the grave of Thomas Jefferson the cost of which has been paid out of the appropriation made by congress for that purpose.

The arrival of barges from St. Louis with 500 000 bushels of corn on board the New Orleans Lagune declares to be of much greater importance in that city than the arrival of the Potter committee.

Cleveland Herald: Grant's death alone can prevent his renomination for a third term. This is true not because any man or set of men is working to put him forward but because the people will it.

Since the Cost of the late civil war the Marietta (Ga.) Herald says nearly half a million pounds of bull's have been gathered from the battle fields near that town. One man has shipped 14 000 pounds.

Ex-Governor Warmoth has an explanation of the Sherman letter mystery. He thinks Sherman really wrote a letter but that Mrs. Jenks pocketed it and gave Weber and Anderson one of her own concoctions in its place.

Ex Senator Logan in his Fourth of July oration grew eloquent in the following fashion: "Deny it who will I say that the issues of 1861 are not dead and that the ground hog will again appear when his shadow can not be seen."

Richmond (Va.) Dispatch: There are hundreds of millions of dollars now lying idle. There is now twice as much currency as anybody uses. It lies idle and unproductive. How could it possibly be made productive by increasing its quantity?

Wendell Hall puts in the North American Review makes the following nice distinctions: "A man who created the Republican party were men of convictions but the men whom the Republican party has created are men of convictions. They seek only to use for party or personal ends the power they have inherited."

The estate of Dr. J. C. Ayer whose death was announced a few days ago is estimated at $1 000 000. Thirty five or forty years ago the firm commenced putting up patent medicines at Syracuse where he employed a number of girls in making paper boxes, etc. Some time after he removed to Lowell Mass. Dr. Ayer used printers ink.

POLITICAL NOTES

It is says the New York Times from the lack of consistency courage and manliness that the present administration has sunk so far in public esteem.

The Vicksburg Herald continues to pour hot shot into the Northern Democracy because they failed to support the bills granting immense subsidies and appropriations for some of the pet schemes of the Southwest.

The Columbus (Ga.) Times says it looks as if Alex H. Stephens would have an easy triumph for re-election to congress in the eighth district. No county yet heard from in the district has even a candidate in the field to the nominating convention.

Chicago Tribune: The name of Gen. Grant as a possible candidate for president in 1880 acts on a Democrat as calling the police down on a night-rosyterer. It may be well to keep up the talk on that subject, for it puts the rowdy Democracy on their good behavior. It is a word to conjure with.

It is manifestly a source of grief to the editor of the Augusta (Ga.) Chronicle that in spite of the soothings of their administered Mr. Stephens is carrying all the local successes, and will be renominated without opposition. The paper intimates that Mr. Stephens friends are up to various little games.

The chairman of the Democratic county committee in Indianapolis, Indiana, asserts that he has been cheated out of some $1 500—money advanced out of his own pocket—and he brings suit against the other members of the committee to recover the amount and threatens to tell what he knows about Democratic frauds in the Tilden campaign of 1876.

THE LONDON "TIMES"

INTERIOR WORKINGS OF "THE THUNDERER"—ITS TONE OF HIGH AUTHORITY DELARTED.

(Correspondence of the Baltimore Sun.)

Since Mr. Delane has ceased to be the chief leader writer of the Times and is a valetudinarian in the south of France, many changes have taken place in the writing departments of The Fourth Estate. Undergraduates representatives of the great universities—Oxford, Cambridge and Trinity college Dublin—now sit in judgment on the leaders they respectively write. Many articles of a class of persons of the world are always ready in type held in abeyance for the proper time in the Times office. These are under lock and key and the supervision and custody of two men who are held responsible for them. Ordinary articles of a class of persons of the world are always ready in type subject to finish or amendment. One gentleman in particular has charge of this department, while three or four others manage the rest. Most of the 'leaders' of the Times on daily events that are fresh are written by the university men I allude to. They sit in council and shape their articles to suit the views prevailing. This is done between the hours of 10 and 12 P. M. I have known however the best 'leaders' written for the Times in manner though wild in aspect with red flowing hair. They prospered and grew in numbers and took wives from among the Esquimaux. One day after moons without number had passed, the north wind became hot and sultry. It was like the breath of fire for many days, and then a booming and thundering noise was heard to the north and the crash shook the heavens and made the rocks tremble. This continued for a long time, and the north wind began to grow cooler and cooler until at length men died by the fire from cold. The Esquimaux knew then that the ice-fields of the north had broken loose. Their traditions told them that, and they hastened to the shore with their wives and children and sailed to an island to the north west. The strangers mocked them as they left. Many years after this the Esquimaux returned only to find that the ice had overwhelmed the strangers and swept the meadows and even the streams into the sea, leaving nothing behind but naked rocks and huge mountains. From that time forth the land was cold and dreary.

These traditions, quantum valeant account very satisfactorily for the sudden disappearance of the Norsemen—but it is just possible that Lord Beaconsfield may at the right moment last swung over to the side of the Russophobists and gives a note of support to the government.

TWO LONG LOST COLONIES

THE HAN[illegible] ALLEGIANCE TO THE NORTH LIGHTS IN GREENLAND WHERE THEY HAVE BEEN SEALING FOR 1[illegible]

Correspondence of the Chicago Tribune.

The fitting out of several Arctic expeditions to search for the mysterious disappearance of the Norwegian and Danish colonies which for [illegible] planted on the east and west coasts of Greenland about the year A. D. 1000 have [illegible] for centuries and vanished forever in the middle of the fifteenth century. The [illegible] story told at the Norse museum in Greenland in 18[illegible]. A Danish colonist [illegible] on the west shore and a Norwegian colony of the east shore of the peninsula. They were separated by a desert [illegible] miles in width but kept in communication with each other in summer by [illegible] and in winter by deer sled trains. They sustained themselves by hunting and fishing and later on by raising cattle the pasturage of Greenland being at that time luxuriant. In 1450 the Danish colony was deserted. Igalmiutt and broken up and the last that was heard of the settlement was in 1[illegible]. In 1448 Pope Nicholas V. in a letter to the English court stated that the colonists had been attacked by a fleet of savages and murdered to a man but he did not vouch for the accuracy of his information. In 1822 Captain Scoresby discovered huts containing hunting gear and household utensils of Norse pattern on the west coast and claimed that these had been the dwellings of the lost colonists. The popular idea at that time was that a settlement of the descendants of these Norsemen existed in some terra incognita far beyond the ice fields and near the pole, and Lieutenant Frederick Schwatka who sailed for the Arctic seas last month was credited in a Washington dispatch the other day with saying that the grandest undertaking of the present age would be to strive to reach that "polate Icology."

In some of the old north Iceland Icelandic manuscripts which were sent to Paris in 1760, frequent mention was made of legends and traditions touching this Norse colony. The first of the Recollets landed in Canada in one of Champlain's ships in 1615, nearly two centuries after the Greenland colony disappeared. Others rapidly followed him, and in 1632 one of the missionary fathers, Father de Maurme, sailed to the west shore of New Soundland, where he found several camps of Esquimaux who were wintering there. He learned from them—it was an Esquimaux tradition—that at one time in the remote ages as he expresses it men of the stature and men of French visitors lived in peace and amity with their forefathers. There were hundreds of them and sometimes they took ship and sailed away to the southeast returning after many days with companions who settled with them. After some years these strangers divided themselves into two bodies one going to the east and the other to the east shore. From that time forth their nature seemed changed and they attacked and murdered one another. One winter it was dark for four months and the cold was so intense that even the Esquimaux perished in their abodes. Fearing that the strife of the strange people had enraged the god of the wind and sea, the Esquimaux fled. But it was yet dark to the southward, and when the darkness passed away they sailed in fright to a lonely island where they dwelt for many years. On their return they found the face of the earth changed. Vast marshes and dwelt and one whole region was desolate. The strangers houses were buried beneath mountains of ice and no living thing was to be seen but the bear and the walrus.

Father Paul Ragueneau the celebrated Jesuit whose reports to his superiors in France contain much trustworthy information concerning New France and who figured conspicuously under the regime of M. De Ailleboust towards the close of the seventeenth century, relates at second hand an Indian tradition closely resembling that current among the Esquimaux. But perhaps the most important story is that told by the Jesuit Nicholas Perrot, who, in 1648, accompanied by several Hurons, he advanced along the north shore of the Gulf and penetrated in Labrador. Eighty days journey inland he came upon a solitary band of savages who spoke the Huron tongue with difficulty. From the chief and medicine man he learned that they were the descendants of a party of Hurons who had fled from an intertribal war, not through cowardice but because they had taken wives from the band which the Hurons had attacked. Their fathers had lived with Esquimaux and the two peoples had been blended into one. They had preserved their language to some extent but the Esquimaux tongue was more familiar to them than the Huron. They were rich in Esquimaux traditions and these they had illustrated by rude paintings on wood and stone. They interpreted many of these hieroglyphs for Father Malligeye the principal one, which covered nearly a hundred wooden tablets, having reference beyond doubt to the Norse colony. It ran thus: "Far back in the past, when the Esquimaux though they were the only people on the earth and that the world was bounded by their familiar shores, a fleet of strangers landed and took possession of a beautiful country where the grass was always green. They built houses of wood and stones and had flocks and herds which their women watched while the men were fishing. Other fleets came after them, and the Esquimaux thought this new race was sent to drive them into the sea, but the strangers were kind in manner though wild in aspect with red flowing hair. They prospered and grew in numbers and took wives from among the Esquimaux. One day after moons without number had passed, the north wind became hot and sultry. It was like the breath of fire for many days, and then a booming and thundering noise was heard to the north and the crash shook the heavens and made the rocks tremble. This continued for a long time, and the north wind began to grow cooler and cooler until at length men died by the fire from cold. The Esquimaux knew then that the ice-fields of the north had broken loose. Their traditions told them that, and they hastened to the shore with their wives and children and sailed to an island to the north west. The strangers mocked them as they left. Many years after this the Esquimaux returned only to find that the ice had overwhelmed the strangers and swept the meadows and even the streams into the sea, leaving nothing behind but naked rocks and huge mountains. From that time forth the land was cold and dreary."

These traditions, quantum valeant, account very satisfactorily for the sudden disappearance of the Norsemen—but it is just possible that Lord Beaconsfield may at the right moment last swung over to the side of the Russophobists and gives a note of support to the government.

Decline in the Price of Petroleum.

[From the Philadelphia Railway World.]

Great consternation has been caused in the oil regions of Pennsylvania by the recent decline in the price of petroleum to less than a dollar per barrel. It is generally admitted that the running prices are a natural and unavoidable result of the immense increase in production and in some quarters the belief is expressed that if there is no other way of doing the decline will be stopped by the railroads, which have the power at Jerusalem over an event Palestine he will place a Jew in the chief place the Jews will again rise to power at the seat of their ancient glory the laws of Moses and the old Jewish system will be restored and thus we may discover the key of Beaconsfield's eastern policy and behold the consummation of his Jewish ambition.

Call Joseph Cook

From the Boston Traveller.

When Cook had counseled in his pious way to the witness in the stand "You saw your son last Saturday?" "I did," answered the witness. "Whether or not you know that you did?" continued the counsel. "I do," said the witness. "How do you know that you did?" persisted the lawyer. Witness after a pause "Too much for me better call Joseph Cook."

A Wicked Story on Tilden

[From the New York Graphic.]

Hugh Hastings, [illegible] story: Hastings of the N. Y. Commercial Advertiser is that an oil subscriber wrote to him to stop his newspaper on account of his hostility to Gov. Tilden. Hugh replied by letter: "My antagonism began in my youth when from the window of Erastus Corning's store in Albany I saw old Moses Tilden and his son come into town from Lebanon to sell herbs and that boy Sam was pointed out to me as the chap who sold Jim Gould the herb doctor Gratz Brown's concern the folly of glutting the market with excessive quantities of such a product as peppermint."

Remarkable Complaint by Mr Jefferson Davis.

[From the New York Tribune.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 23—A committee appointed a week ago by the chamber of commerce to draft resolutions expressing the sentiments of the chamber on the death of Isaac Friedlander reported to-day. At the meeting of the chamber resolutions to the effect that in the death of Mr. Friedlander the chamber loses one of its most valuable members that the city of San Francisco loses in his death one of its most eminent merchants and business men that the chamber recognizes in Mr. Friedlander a man interested in the prosperity and progress of the state who in carrying out his business enterprises has done more than any other man to develop the agricultural resources and industries of the Pacific coast, that members of the board tender to the family of Mr. Friedlander their sympathy in their affliction and bereavement were adopted. It was voted that a copy should be engrossed and sent to the family of the deceased.

The More Murder Trial—Sprague Convicted

SAN BUENAVENTURA, July 23—The jury in the Sprague case, after an hour and a half of deliberation notified the court at 10 o'clock this morning that they had agreed upon a verdict. The prisoner was brought in and the verdict of being guilty was found to be guilty of murder in the first degree. It is ascertained that on retiring the jury balloted on the question of guilty or not guilty, and after considerable discussion decided to hang the jury should mitigate the punishment to imprisonment for life. The ballot was taken with the result above stated. Mr. Haymond at once took exception to the verdict, on the ground that the indictment which they were sworn to try had never been read to the jury as the law requires. The court fixed the 25th as the time for passing sentence.

Churchill Dying.

The prisoner Churchill whose trial is set for this morning, is reported to be dying. He has ever since his imprisonment been subject to attacks of rheumatism of the heart and for the time was allowed to sleep up stairs in the court room but of late has been below in a cell.

IMMIGRATION

Only a small portion of the great wave of population constantly rolling westward as yet reaches the Pacific slope The highest tides barely touch our own state The vast intermediate region is first to be filled Distance, expense of travel and want of complete information regarding the Pacific slope detain multitudes upon the first vacant lands they meet and in consequence Kansas, Nebraska, Minnesota and Dakota are filling with population even more rapidly than ever before, while the movement to the Pacific states and territories is comparatively small A correspondent of the Chicago Tribune says the immigration to Kansas this year is simply immense Most of it goes west of the center of the state, along the main railway lines It is asserted that Kansas will add at least 250,000 to her population the present year Sales of enormous tracts of land in Minnesota, Nebraska and Dakota is another incident in the same line Texas also an empire in itself, shows an increase of population corresponding with its vast area The immigration of the present year into that state, it is claimed, will reach a total of 300,000. From 1850 to 1870 the population of Texas multiplied four-fold By the last census its inhabitants numbered above 800 000 and it is believed that the census of 1880 will show that they have doubled in numbers during the present decade

Our northwest has been receiving no inconsiderable additions to its population during the last two or three years, yet the numbers will bear no comparison with those just given, and are hardly to be mentioned in such connection. It is the railroad that forms the avenue of these great movements People go readily to any new and good country where there is a railroad to carry them These facts show us why we want the Northern Pacific Within a few years it would people the northwest. As rapidly as the road was extended from the east there would be a movement of population to occupy the country along its whole line, and when finished through to Oregon and Washington we should witness an influx of numbers similar to what is now seen in Kansas and Dakota It is true, that though California has railway communication, no large numbers are now coming to that state but there are reasons for this which are apparent and would not apply here. The fact is too many have been deceived in California. It is not a state for those who want free homesteads There are vast stretches of sterile lands, and the better class of lands are largely held by speculators and monopolists at prices above the means of most who are seeking homes Again, in many parts of the state crops are extremely uncertain Last year we published letters from persons in California who wished to remove from a locality where their harvest had been a partial or total failure on account of drouth seven years in ten Speculators have misled large numbers of immigrants, and even robbed them by putting off upon them lands almost worthless, Moreover, so pressing is the competition of Chinese labor in nearly every branch of industry in California, that people who seek employment can find little to do. As a result of all these circumstances [illegible] Territory. But if [illegible] that state only connected us also with a settling east we should see how agreeable climate lands and sure local population [illegible] sum of the argument is, let us get rail way connection. The Northern Pacific offers the only present prospect. Renew their charter on terms which will enable them to push the work. Next winter the house will ought to pass. The success of the enterprise would have been assured ere this, had it not been for a mere political job to which the highest interests of the country were recklessly postponed

FAILURE OF UNIVERSAL SUFFRAGE

In the July-August number of the North American Review Francis Parkman, the historian of early America, has a vigorous paper on the above subject, in which he takes a gloomy view of self government as exemplified in this country, and holds that our national safety can hardly be secured by education of the masses without the assistance also of a limited ballot. He emphasizes the truth which is forcing its way into many minds that education is not a safeguard always and under all circumstances, and in proof of this he points to the fact that the more cultured and so-called better classes remove themselves from politics, take no part in ward meetings, have nothing for office, and would gladly surrender the ballot itself, if only assured of good government without it. This becomes the more serious since the shadow of the commune has fallen upon our land and in his view Mr. Parkman points squarely to the fact that in our system or under it there is no provision for checking the growth or suppressing the activity of this or any other dangerous movement "Liberty fraternity equality," are the basis of our politics, That one man is as good as another in this country is the basis of our demagogues, and the sentiment is applauded to the echo by many who know that it is not true, who know on the contrary that one man is often better or worse than another, and that the best man often has least to say in the affairs of the country, and is seldom found in the halls of legislation "Liberty," says the writer, 'was the watchword of our fathers, and it is so of ourselves. But in their hearts themselves of the nation cherish desires not only different from, if not inconsistent with it. They want equality more than they want liberty." In this last sentence there is the great force which belongs to the statement of a profound truth. There is no liberty in equality It is the worst kind of despotism to say that a man may not raise himself above the idle, improvident and vicious and that if he does so the fruits of his labor belong not to himself but to society Nor is it true that the aggregate intelligence of the masses is the equivalent of education or genius centered in the smaller class whose advantages have simply been superior One man may know more than a million of his fellows and yet being in a minority of the government, his wisdom weighs nothing on the ballot because his vote counts no more than that of the most illiterate [illegible] ballot is deposited with his own Replying to a supposed inquiry why it should count more, Mr Parkman answers, Because the highest man may comprehend the lowest but the lowest can no more comprehend the highest than if he belonged to another order of beings as for some purposes he practically does." But Mr Parkman does not suppose it will be found practicable to place any limitations on irresponsible suffrage hence the despondent view he takes of the future of the problem of self government

A TRUCE NOT A PEACE

It is probable that the London Times is right in its judgment that it is at present an unwise thing for Mr Gladstone to challenge the results of ministerial diplomacy on the eastern question It now pleases a majority of the English people to claim a great victory and they will not patiently submit to being told that the claim is hollow and fallacious At a future time they may see it differently but not now Yet it is apparent that the treaty through which Beaconsfield's party claims to have gained so much for English interests does not assure the peace of Europe On the contrary it opens the way directly to complications more difficult than ever Russian English Austrian and Turkish interests are now brought into extremely close and delicate relations No one doubts that England if she adheres to the policy to which she is now pledged, will ere long have on her hands a tremendous war to support the tottering remains of the Turkish empire Russia as Mr Gladstone shows will easily find pretexts in the questions left unsettled by the Berlin congress for making a new movement upon Turkey and she is as sure to do it as that philosophy is true which teaches that no great nation can arrest the course or reverse the tendency of those long historic movements which mark its leading traits of national character For centuries Russia has been moving upon Turkey Within the last year she has taken the longest stride in that direction she ever made To suppose that she is so far arrested by the Berlin treaty that she will make no further effort would be a singular instance of short sightedness A mighty nation emerging from a semi civilized condition and moving in obedience to an instinct of self development, seeks intercourse with the world and extension of power in a natural direction and will be moved by this impulse in future as in the past The Berlin treaty is but a temporary resting place, as was the treaty of Paris concluded twenty two years ago

In North Carolina a law has been devised and enacted which affords an admirably complete and effective way of overcoming the colored vote The person offering to vote is obliged to prove his identity and to show his continuous residence in a given district and is further required to take sundry oaths After all this, in spite of his proofs, his vote may still be rejected provided the judges of election are satisfied that he is not a legal voter ' From the decision of the judges there is no appeal The law is aimed wholly at colored voters, and was enacted to prevent embarrassments in districts where such voters constitute a majority The challenge in thousands of cases will of course be equivalent to disfranchisement

Under the new army bill forage is allowed only to officers serving west of the Mississippi river and is issued only in kind and for the number of horses actually employed in the public service For instance, a brigadier general is allowed forage for four horses, but if he employs but one horse, he cannot draw forage for three which he does not own and use in the public service The many officers serving about the war department at Washington, who have been for years drawing the cash value of forage for horses they did not own, and for which in the discharge of their public duties they had no use, will be affected by this change.

Joseph and his Nez Perces are to be placed in the Indian territory on land adjoining that assigned to the Modocs If these bands are going to lift any more hair we trust they will practice on each other hereafter

CITY.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.—M J Walton the young man who was held to await the action of the grand jury in the sum of $1 000 on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, and in default of bonds committed to the county jail attempted to take his life yesterday by hanging Since his incarceration Walton has constantly protested his innocence, and yielding to his importunities Jailer Barry allowed the prisoner to walk about the hall While unobserved yesterday he took off his suspenders and tying them together, fastened one end around his neck and the other over the ironwork above one of the windows In this manner Walton managed to suspend himself from the floor The first intimation which the prisoner's fellows had that anything was wrong was the sounds of some one choking Looking in the direction from whence the noise proceeded several of the prisoners discovered Walton hanging up by the neck The alarm was given and the would be suicide cut down — and not one minute too soon either, for he was black in the face from strangulation He remained insensible for some time after being released Meantime two physicians were summoned who administered powerful stimulants. He was at length restored to consciousness and is now doing very well It is confidently hoped that the young man has abandoned all intention of destroying himself

"IT SMELLS TO HEAVEN.—This familiar quotation of Divine William comes with peculiar freshness and force to the minds of all who may have occasion to pass on the south side of Alder street, from First to Third A pump has been placed on the sidewalk opposite the large Chinese restaurant and lodging-house, at the corner of Alder and Second streets This pump connects with the basement of the restaurant (which appears to be) fed with water and is kept running almost constantly by means of celestials The water which is thus raised to the level of the sidewalk and thrown into the gutter seems to contain all that is impure and offensive in suds a most sickening odor A good smell is quite sufficient to turn one's stomach This water runs along down the gutter clear to the entrance of the sewer at the corner of First and Alder and, as the hard expresses it "stinks as it flows" The air for some distance away is freighted with the disagreeable odor Without this nuisance be abated in some way?

A WEARIED OF LIFE.—A man whose name could not be ascertained, was arrested yesterday and taken to police court, who was supposed to be insane. He called at a drug store and wanted to purchase a small quantity of opium. His actions at once aroused the suspicion of the druggist who declined to sell him the article The individual then became quite abusive, and was promptly turned over to the custody of a police officer who locked him in jail. Judge Rice was sent for and had a long conversation with the man He seemed to talk rational and the judge at last concluded to let him go He had been drinking to excess, which will furnish the most probable reason for his morbid condition of mind. When conversing with the judge, the man said he was weary of life and seemed to "shuffle off this mortal coil" and claims to have been connected with some theatrical company.

DRUNK.—Last evening a big drunken man, giving his name as Alex. Southerland, was arrested and brought to the police station in charge of Sergeancy Southerland was treated a few days ago for being drunk and upsetting the gutter into a bed He looked like a good fellow, and promised that he would leave the city Monday but he was found roaming about the streets in a partially intoxicated condition On being interrogated by an officer Southerland showed a steamer ticket and said he would leave for San Francisco in the morning and that he would take his departure, the officer ordered him to proceed without moles tation He was found last night again half drunk and escorted to the city jail, where lodgings were provided To day Southerland was required to answer the charge of being drunk and disorderly.

SOLD BY.—Several of the officers who have been in command of a small detachment of troops have arrived on the steamer Ancon from Portland at Astoria. It was about six o'clock when the steamer arrived at the above place. Soon after landing, the officers and several other persons went ashore to have a look at the city Capt Debney finding that it would not do to get past the soldiers along the river before dark, concluded to push on with his vessel. Nothing occurred when the officers left the steamer which they would leave. So after stroll through the place some time they returned to the steamer to learn to their chagrin that the vessel was steaming up toward Portland and had been left came up last evening on the boat.

A SLIGHT OIL.—A few nights ago a gentleman returning home quite late was surprised to find his hall door open He was still more surprised to meet a man in the hall who came rushing past him through the front door and out at the gate The hall was not lighted and the whole thing transpired so quickly that the gentleman did not have time to take any measures to trap the burglar He was unarmed at the time and would have been risky business to tackle a man in the dark, who no doubt was prepared for any emergency Mr Burglar had effected an entrance and was preparing to go through the premises when his work was interrupted by the sudden and unexpected return of the proprietor Nothing was disturbed

COMMITTED FOR HORSE STEALING.—On complaint of Mr. Ira F Powers F C Woicka, was arrested yesterday, charged with horse stealing. The stolen equine belonged to Mr Powers, and was recovered near the Claremont hotel. Woicka is well known in Portland, having resided here several years At one time he was quite respectable, and was considered one of the best jewelers in the city. Strong drink has seriously impaired his reason, and he is thought to be partially demented The case will come up for investigation in police court to day It is quite likely that Woicka will be adjudged insane and committed to the asylum

ARRAIGNED.—The case of State of Oregon vs. J. Merriman, who was charged with the crime of obtaining money under false pretenses, application for a writ of habeas corpus was argued before Judge Shattuck on Monday The following order was entered upon the return to the writ of habeas corpus in the above entitled action and upon the pleadings thereon and the proof therein that the defendant therein E R Merriman be discharged from the commitment therein and that he go free without a day. In chambers circuit court of state of Oregon July 22, 1878"

AN AGREEABLE SURPRISE.—A company of friends, laden with flowers and memorial gifts, visited Mrs. Clara Skinner on Monday morning, on the occasion of her seventh birthday. This lady is the mother of Master William Wadhams with whom Mrs Skinner is boarding Her sojourn in Portland has been brief, she has resided long enough to endear herself to a large circle of friends and receive many beautiful attentions, where evinced the delicate considerations which characterizes an agreeable surprise

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.—The directors of School District No 1—Messrs I C Ainsworth, A H Morgan and H H Northrup—desire to state that sealed proposals will be received by them until Saturday, the 27th inst at 10 o'clock P. M. for excavating foundations and furnishing such material as will be required in building foundation and basement wall for the Park street school building Plans and specifications can be seen at the office of Mr Hamilton, the superintendent

CELESTIAL.—A Celestial who answers to the name of Ogaomen of Wong Heng was arrested late last night charged with threatening to kill He was placed in durance vile, and will have to be examined into this afternoon before Judge Adams.

DROWNED.—Last Sunday forenoon a young man named I S Allyn while bathing at the cascades was carried beyond his depth and drowned before assistance could reach him Deceased was about twenty one years of age He was a steady industrious young fellow and has been for some years past Allyn had been employed as a laborer on the Oregon railroad now being constructed at the Cascades So far as can be ascertained deceased has no relations in this state or Washington territory Any person knowing anything concerning the parents or friends of the deceased will confer a favor by addressing the Oregon Railroad Company at the Cascades Efforts have been made to recover the body but as yet without success

PAINLESS ACCIDENT.—Mr M S Hart a well known contractor while working on a new building Monday afternoon met with a very painful accident He was walking along the scaffolding with a heavy piece of timber on his shoulder and missing his footing fell a short distance landing astride a joist, receiving very painful injuries Drs Hammer and Watkins were called and rendered the required medical services At last accounts Mr Hart was resting as comfortably as all nature of his injuries would permit but his condition is considered quite critical

A COMPLAINT.

We the undersigned passengers of the Pacific Coast steamship Ancon en route from San Francisco Cal to Portland, Oregon desire to make known to the public the following facts as of interest to all whose business may take them over this northern line of travel.

On Monday the 22nd of July, 1878 as the steamship neared Astoria, Oregon after a long and tedious voyage at sea it was understood by the passengers that she would remain a considerable time at this port to discharge freight The captain (Debney) the first mate of the ship and several under officers stated personally to many of the undersigned that she would stay at least three hours and in all probability all night at Astoria, a fact that became well known and thoroughly understood by most on board The ship made Astoria at 6 30 P M and a great many passengers availed themselves of the opportunity of a jaunt ashore Not the slightest objection was made to their landing, and no word of caution was given of any change of intention or of any possibility of such a change in less than one hour however and without the sounding of the special alarm the steamship was again under way for Portland, leaving the undersigned at Astoria much to their inconvenience in matter of comfort as well as involving most serious business delay and expense No pains were taken to ascertain who if any were left behind There was not the slightest solicitude shown for the safety of any passengers and whether among 8 summers in the society of the elite, or in the bosom of his friends and family we now in the boss of the big bonanza all those are brutes which go to make up the thorough man and the courtly gentleman

The Mines of Owyhee

From the Owyhee Avalanche

There never has been a time during the past six years when the mining outlook of Silver City and vicinity looked more promising than it does at present The grand discoveries which have within the past few weeks come to light on Florida mountain have had a wonderful effect in creating a hopeful feeling here There is no longer any deep misery prevailing regarding the future of the camp Rich as a settled fact in the Black Jack is turning out in no lonely and the ore which is daily being sent to the mill from the north drift of the mine makes a steady yield of over $200 to the ton The progress of the work reveals too the cheering fact that the ledge is steadily improving, and that the great bonanza of the country is right in the heart of Florida mountain This is no imaginary statement It is borne out by facts in confirmation of which we point to the results of the crushings at the Golden Chariot mill which is turning out crude bullion at the rate of $3 000 per day and if the rock continues to improve as it has for the past week the daily bullion yield will soon reach $4 000 We have seen times here during the past year when a bar of bullion was a refreshing and novel sight now we see these bars by the dozen and ranging in value from $2 000 to $4,000 each, and capitalists who have insisted as a preliminary to making investments here that they must see the bullion first will be convinced now that there is no longer any doubt about the productiveness of our mines The Florida mountain bonanza surpasses the Poorman and Golden Chariot in their most palmy days and no one acquainted with its extent and richness will be at all surprised if the developments any time during the coming month or two should be such as to fully justify the belief that we have the great mine of the Pacific coast in this immediate vicinity

To know what is the most becoming as well as what is in style and taste a lady should have at hand just such variety of illustration and just such wealth of suggestion and information as are found in "Andrews' Bazar Do not fail to send ten cents for specimen copy to W R Andrews, Cincinnati

If you don't keep the sewing machines in good order you know how much trouble it gives you so you will do well to call on Wheeler & Wilson's agent at Ackerlund's Block, Fifth street

THE IMPRESSION THAT COMSTOCK MINES IS MAKING UPON PARIS

From the Paris Figaro

It was only to that Paris should find a very numerous and high class guests Mr J Lee William Mackay of Virginia City United States and that his exhibition should be visit by the most powerful representative of the kingdom of gold and silver Born in Dublin in 1831 Mr Mackay went to America when quite a youth as a lad was first employed in a large shipbuilding house in New York Toward the end of his soon after the discovery of gold he sailed for California in a vessel built by his employer and resided there in the winter of that year Having a natural inclination for everything connected with mining he immediately adopted as a profession which all the hardships and ups and downs that are part and parcel of his wages Commencing his career in Sierra county where he remained several years he at length made a raise and started for Virginia City Here his funds ran out and he would for some time following the Mexican mine at four dollars a day As a characteristic of the man it is stated that at all this period Mr Mackay was frequently saying that if he could only get together $2 500 to make the deal in the years of his dreams other comparatively his greatest ambition in life would be attained But by various changes of fortune, he ultimately, in 1871 became associated with Mr J M Walker and to this firm was added in 1868, Messrs Flood and O Brien remaining so until his withdrawal Walker retiring Mr Fair replaced him The stupendous wealth of the four enterprising men then became manifest They having secured the Hale and Norcross, one of the Bonanza mines, were enabled to procure others, finally purchasing the Consolidated Virginia ground for about $80 000 Further acquisition of territory resulted in their obtaining that marvellous deposit of ore known as the Comstock Lode, With their constantly increasing capital and the active and incessant efforts of both my Mr Mackay and his partners the wonderful bonanza mines were even vastly opened to the astonished world Mr Mackay has three eighths of the profit derived from them and yearly adds to his overflow in exchequer the almost fabulous sum of 60 000 000 francs This is calculated that Flood has exactly 1.5 francs per minute 7 000 francs an hour and 180 000 francs a day Little over 42 years of age, Mr Mackay is still in the prime of life, has a handsome commanding face splendid physique and fine presence and whether among statesmen in the society of the elite, or in the bosom of his friends and family we view in the boss of the big bonanza all those attributes which go to make up the thorough man and the courtly gentleman

The Mines of Owyhee

From the Owyhee Avalanche

There never has been a time during the past six years when the mining outlook of Silver City and vicinity looked more promising than it does at present The grand discoveries which have within the past few weeks come to light on Florida mountain have had a wonderful effect in creating a hopeful feeling here There is no longer any deep misery prevailing regarding the future of the camp As a settled fact in the Black Jack is turning out in no lonely and the ore which is daily being sent to the mill from the north drift of the mine makes a steady yield of over $200 to the ton The progress of the work reveals too the cheering fact that the ledge is steadily improving, and that the great bonanza of the country is right in the heart of Florida mountain This is no imaginary statement It is borne out by facts in confirmation of which we point to the results of the crushings at the Golden Chariot mill which is turning out crude bullion at the rate of $3 000 per day and if the rock continues to improve as it has for the past week the daily bullion yield will soon reach $4 000 We have seen times here during the past year when a bar of bullion was a refreshing and novel sight now we see these bars by the dozen and ranging in value from $2 000 to $4,000 each, and capitalists who have insisted as a preliminary to making investments here that they must see the bullion first will be convinced now that there is no longer any doubt about the productiveness of our mines The Florida mountain bonanza surpasses the Poorman and Golden Chariot in their most palmy days and no one acquainted with its extent and richness will be at all surprised if the developments any time during the coming month or two should be such as to fully justify the belief that we have the great mine of the Pacific coast in this immediate vicinity

The month of July is usually considered one of the dullest of the year in business matters here, but the current month has been one of a fair number of transactions and of a moderately large volume of trade. The Indian trouble in the eastern part of the state has somewhat curtailed shipments in that direction and has also cut down the receipts of wool from that section to a very considerable extent. It is thought the beginning of the end can now be seen and that trade with that country will soon experience a revival. There is however to be considered the fact that the surplus products of that country have been quite largely reduced by the raid of the Indians and the aggregate business with eastern Oregon which was expected to be larger than ever be one may fall below that of last year. For a month past trade in Union Umatilla and Grant counties has been seriously obstructed, and with many of the settlers in those counties it will take years to recover their losses. The actual value of the property destroyed is but a small factor in reckoning the real losses the people and the country.

Trade matters with this valley, Southern Oregon and the Puget Sound country is reported fair for the summer season with a very considerable demand for seasonable goods and a generally prevalent promptness on part of purchasers in meeting their obligations. There have as yet been only a few contracts for wheat of the new crop made, and those have been generally kept very quiet so that no price for new wheat has really been established. Exporters are moving very cautiously in making contracts either for vessels or for cargoes and until the crop comes forward, in at least moderate quantities, we may not look for any activity in the market.

The local money market offers nothing new the same condition of ease continuing which has been frequently noticed in these columns during the past few months, and the old rates maintained with a good deal of firmness, the anticipation of an increased demand as the crops become ready to be moved adding to make holders of capital rather less inclined to let it out at anything below the rates now current.

Wheat.

Although the market for wheat is almost nominal, there is evidence of a fine tone, induced by better prices at the east, steadiness of the Liverpool market and the slightly upward movement in San Francisco. In the last circular concerning this cereal issued by the late Isaac Friedlander, he says of the Oregon crop that as far as the yield was concerned it was better than the average, but the quality was hardly up to that of previous years. Low steamer freights, brought about by opposition resulted in large shipments to San Francisco but in addition, 72 vessels cleared from the Columbia river for European and other ports, bearing away about 150,000 tons of wheat. The new crop will be reaped in August, and promises to be a good one.

Hops.

We are in receipt of Mr. Phil. Neis semi annual circular, which gives advices concerning the prospects in the hop crop of this coast, which in spite of the low prices last year, are on the whole favorable for a good crop, though in one or two localities farmers are reported as discouraged, and have turned their attention to other crops. The receipts at San Francisco for the half year ending July 1st were, from California, 5,754 bales; Oregon 2,496; Washington Territory, 2,433, and British Columbia 28 bales. Stock in first hands about 1,400 bales, of which more than the moiety is of inferior quality. Prices range according to grade, from three to seven cents per pound. Both in regard to home consumption and export, market is inactive and dull.

A late exchange from the Bay City says: "Money is very plentiful in all our monetary reservoirs, and the free movement of grain and fruits will set the whole in motion, scattering the golden coin in all directions, thus dispelling the gloom of general inactivity which always follows short crops as was the case last year, but now we see abundance everywhere throughout all our borders."

The market for wool products remains moderately active, and prices do not vary largely from our last reports. Houses in this particular trade report the volume of transactions this year about the same as during last season, although prices range lower, a fact, which should have greatly increased the consumptive demand, but for the low prices of fresh meats also.

The fall trade promises to be of considerable magnitude, and in the interim we remark an increased demand for plows and farm wagons, for these there is a large sale, and at good prices. The active spring demand for harvesters, headers and horse powers generally pretty effectively cleared the market of all accumulated stock and left the traders in good shape for next season.

The Cunard steamer Russia, Captain Cook, which sailed from New York July 3d, on reaching Liverpool will have completed her 106th round trip. The Russia is an iron steamer. She was built in Glasgow, and put on the line in June, 1857. Being the only open decked steamship on the line, she is much liked by old travelers. The Russia is a three decked, full rigged vessel, drawing 21 feet of water, light and registers 2,960 tons burthen. Her length is 336 feet, beam 38 feet, and depth of hold 27 feet. During the 120 trips she has made across the Atlantic the Russia has never met with an accident. She has passed through storms of the severest character, but has always weathered a boat.

Liverpool Produce and Markets

LONDON, July 23—The Mark Lane Express says: "Cheering rainfall under brilliant sunshine. The continuance of such weather as we are now experiencing will go far to repair the injury by prolonged frosts in May, except where rain is needed, but in many districts the wheat crop which was below an average in many parts of the country the yield in these districts will scarcely come up to it. Wheat, in fact, nothing may be expected to commence this week in early districts, provided the present favorable weather continues. Barley fields present a bleached and unhealthy appearance and the reports from Scotland are somewhat satisfactory. Harvest weather is very improved, and if things have not been even worse so far, the wheat crop is generally bad, except in Ireland, where disease has made said inroads on what promised to be a heavy crop."

The leading markets and Mark Lane have been steadily depressed with wheat, but the continuance of bright weather caused a slight relapse. Foreign barley maintained its currencies but trade has not been overwrought with imports, as Friday's returns were under 20,000 quarters. Millers purchased their wants so freely during the previous week that the decreased demand for consumption has been scarcely sufficient to support the late improvement. Nevertheless sellers are hold, except the reduction in view of the increased quantities of wheat on passage and the possibility that American crop reports are exaggerated, so that the week's transactions were not large, although the continental demand still responds, prices supposed to prices with small arrivals at ports of call the floating cargo trade was quiet but the continental demand continued and values were fairly supported. Sales of English wheat for the week were 22,352 qrs at 44s 6d against 21,780 qrs at 6s in the previous year.

DR. P. A. M. BRENAN.

His Wonderful Success

IN THE TREATMENT OF ALL

Chronic and Secret Diseases,

He has astonished the People of this Coast by his skillful Operations.

HE HAS TAUGHT IN HIS

public and private lectures the true principles of health and life to both male and female. He has also warned them against habits that would be likely to produce disease, in plain and comprehensive language. But where he has found them crushed and broken down by disease, mentally and physically he has restored them to health and happiness for it is well understood that without health there can be no happiness.

has made a specialty in the treatment of the following diseases: Catarrh, Bronchitis, and all diseases of the throat, nose, chest, lungs, nervous system and kidneys, to which class of diseases Bright's Disease of the Kidneys belongs. In the treatment of this disease he has made a world wide reputation, the astonishing success not only on this Coast but throughout the whole United States. Diseases of the stomach bowels, liver and kidneys as well as diseases of the blood and skin he has become master of and he can safely give relief at once and permanently cures the case if he is applied to in time.

THE DOCTOR HAS GIVEN SPECIAL LECTURES to ladies only for years and is perfectly familiar with all female complaints and understands their delicate and refined organization, as well as the proper remedies which should be used to alley their suffering and restore them to perfect health.

THE DOCTOR HAS THIS ADVANTAGE

over most physicians—he can tell the patients disease the moment he comes in contact with them without any aid from the individual. This accounts in part for his great professional success.

All surgical operations can be performed by his skillful hand, and the patient need not fear the result.

DR. BRENAN

will send to those living at a distance and who can not well visit his office a list of Printed Questions which if carefully filled out he can tell the disease as well as the proper treatment almost as well as seeing the patient personally and will forward the proper medicines, or instruments, to any part of the country with full instructions and advice. Each letter requiring advice or list of questions must contain two postage stamps.

Everything strictly confidential and honorable.

THE DOCTOR

has studied in the 4 Medical Schools in Europe and three years in the Jefferson Medical College at Philadelphia, as more than one of the Medical men of the Medical Faculty in this State can testify.

CAUTION.

Persons coming to Portland, requiring medical treatment of the proper kind, who desire to consult with me will please beware of persons who may try to speak them a way to other so called Doctors through pretended friendship for the patients. Look out for them they are knaves prompted by selfish motives and what they can make. Be sure and call for DR. P. A. M. BRENAN at the Medical Lecturer and read his sign on his door.

Office, 83 First street, over McCormick's Franklin Bookstore.
